Change the World Through Philanthropy

Sydney – Tuesday, 15 November 2011
Melbourne – Thursday, 17 November 2011

Advocacy is a tool used by charities that seek to tackle social and environmental problems at the source. This makes more sense than simply responding to the symptoms of problems – and it can be much more cost effective.

These workshops will explain how the High Court decision on Aid/Watch has made it easier for philanthropy to fund advocacy. They will also provide insight into why charities believe it is important for philanthropy to support advocacy and the achievements that can be made through high quality advocacy work.

If you want to change the world through philanthropy, please RSVP using the details below.
